

Midori Foundation, Inc.

Document Destruction and Retention Policy

Updated September 29, 2016

Purpose

In accordance with the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, which makes it a crime to alter, cover up, falsify, or destroy any document with the intent of impeding or obstructing any official proceeding, this policy provides for the systematic review, retention, and destruction of documents received or created by The Midori Foundation, Inc. in connection with the transaction of organization business. This policy covers all records and documents, regardless of physical form, contains guidelines for how long certain documents should be kept, and how records should be destroyed (unless under a legal hold). The policy is designed to ensure compliance with federal and state laws and regulations, to eliminate accidental or innocent destruction of records, and to facilitate The Midori Foundation's operations by promoting efficiency and freeing up valuable storage space.

If a user has sufficient reason to keep an e-mail message, the message should be printed in hard copy and kept in the appropriate file or moved to an “archive” computer file folder. Backup and recovery methods will be tested on a regular basis.

Emergency Planning

The Midori Foundation’s records will be stored in a safe, secure, and accessible manner. Documents and financial files that are essential to keeping The Midori Foundation, Inc. operating in an emergency will be duplicated or backed up at least every week and maintained off-site.

Document Destruction

The Midori Foundation’s Executive Director and Director of Finance are responsible for the ongoing process of identifying its records, which have met the required retention period, and overseeing their destruction. Destruction of financial and personnel-related documents will be accomplished by shredding.

Document destruction will be suspended immediately, upon any indication of an official investigation or when a lawsuit is filed or appears imminent. Destruction will be reinstated upon conclusion of the investigation.

Compliance

Failure on the part of employees to follow this policy can result in possible civil and criminal sanctions against The Midori Foundation, Inc. and its employees and possible disciplinary action against responsible individuals. The Executive Director, Director of Finance and Board Finance Committee Chair will periodically review these procedures with legal counsel or the organization’s certified public accountant to ensure that they are in compliance with new or revised regulations.
